THE BLOODY RECORD OF JOHN MORRISON.

Desperado Whom the Courts Had at Least Twice Acquitted. Four Men Had Died at His Hands.

Special to The State.

Camden, Oct. 3.—If John Morrison, the desperado who was put to death by a mob in Lancaster county last Saturday night, had lived in the days of the James boys and possessed the daring and courage which made those men conspicuous, he would have been eligible to a non-commissioned office in that famous band. There seems to be no doubt but that he possessed the other qualities to a marked degree. Little is known of his life before he turned his back on the mountain fastnesses of his native State, North Carolina, 15 years ago, but his career during this period suggests little of peace and good citizenship on his native heath. He came across the border bearing the brand of Cain, and the number of his victims here verifies the stigma. The facts surrounding the murder which he is said to have done in North Carolina are not available, but that there was such a crime was persistent rumor long before this last deed brought his name into prominence.

Twelve years ago he met a solitary hunter in a York county forest and slew him. This victim was found some days after with a bullet hole through his head, and suspicion rested on John Morrison. He was tried and acquitted on the plea of self-defense. Unfortunately a gun was found beside the dead man, and this and the fact that the victim was a colored man were enough for the jury. A short while after this he moved to Kershaw and within its environs he gratified his thirst for blood. A kindly providence saved another colored man, a neighbor from his bullet. Fancying that he had a grievance against him, Morrison proceeded to shoot at him as his figure was silhouetted against the sky on a nearby hill. This colored man had the courage to prosecute Morrison, but again it was a case of white man and negro, and he went unpunished.

Some time last year a party of negroes were walking up the track of the railroad on which he lived, and he killed one. He was tried at Camden for the murder and acquitted. He claimed that they were engaged in singing vulgar songs and were otherwise riotous. It is stated that with his Winchester he chased the terrorized colored men over the surrounding country until he had exhausted his ammunition. These negroes were so intimidated that they were afraid to testify against him on the trial.

A short while ago, while he was engaged in running the pumping engine for the tank below Kershaw, he was reported by an engineer for not having water in the tank. After he learned of the report he carried his rifle to meet all trains and said openly that he would use it on any who reported him. His malignity was so patent that, when he refused to leave when told to do so by the railroad officials, engineers were afraid to stop at that tank for water and were in constant dread of the trestle nearby being burned under them.

When he was notified to leave by the railroad officials he refused to do so for some time, and finally when he did go admonished them to send a coffin with his successor.

It is said that he had planned to kill his successor last Monday but was thwarted. The circumstances surrounding the killing of his last victim are so fresh in the minds of the people that they need no recounting here.

Modern Breastplates.

Rome, Oct. 4.—Some time ago the Russian Government ordered 1,000 bullet proof breastplates of the type invented by Signor Benedetti. The latter recently started for St. Petersburg to supervise the manufacture of the breastplates, but was stopped at Munich by the Italian firm to which he had sold the rights to manufacture, and which objected to Signor Benedetti's intervention in the matter, and he returned to Italy. The firm had also undertaken to supply the Japanese Government with 300,000 breastplates. Now that the Russian contract has been broken, it seems that Japan wishes to back out of its engagement, proposing to pay the losses sustained by the firm through the abrogation of the contract.

COURT WEEK IN CAMDEN.

Negro Rapist Sentenced to Be Hanged November 4.

Camden, Oct. 4.—Unless there is a commutation of his sentence Aaron Williams, the rapist, will be hanged here on November 4, the next.

Some time last June the people of this county were thrown into a state of excitement by the report that a negro man had ravished a respectable white woman near Boykin station on the Southern railroad. Aaron Williams, a colored man in the employ of Mr. John Langley, whose wife was the victim, was accused of the crime and arrested several days afterwards, he not having made any effort to escape.

Rumors of possible lynching reached Sheriff Trantham and he reported the matter to the governor, asking that the Kershaw Guards be placed under his orders. This was promptly done and the prisoner was carried to Columbia under the escort of the Kershaw Guards for safe keeping in the penitentiary. There he remained until last week when he was brought to Camden to stand trial. The case was called this afternoon about 5 o'clock, and at a little before 7 o'clock the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and Judge Purdy sentenced him to be hanged on November 4th next.

All the morning session was consumed in preliminary arguments in the case of the State vs. J. E. Gillis for the murder of McRae Whitaker. An effort was made to throw out the jury on the ground of its having been improperly drawn.

Judge Purdy has taken the point in consideration and will announce his decision tomorrow morning.

Should the decision be adverse to the moving attorney a motion for a change of venue will follow.

Assistant Attorney General Townsend was here today in consultation with Solicitor Thurmond and Secretary Stackhouse of Clemson college over the alleged violation of the fertilizer laws. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the party selling the fertilizer and he was present with numerous expert witnesses to take care of his case, but the solicitor announced that he was not prepared to give out the bill to the grand jury.

SUICIDE IN CAMDEN.

W. L. Latham Drank Poison Gather Than Go to the Penitentiary.

Camden, Oct. 4.—William T. Latham, who has been confined in the county jail for several weeks awaiting this term of court, committed suicide this afternoon at about 5:30 o'clock by drinking two ounces of lye, a poisonous disinfectant which had been given him to use on his wound.

When found he was in the last throes and made no statement to any one.

Some months ago he met a Mr. Redmond on the streets and fired several shots at him, one of them striking Redmond but was deflected by a button. The matter was dropped on condition that he leave town, but returning a short while ago he was incarcerated. Yesterday his case was called and he was convicted of assault and battery with intent to kill. Sentence had not been passed on him.

He was a son of the late Mr. S. B. Latham and a brother of Mr. Wade H. Latham, who died last week. The deceased was 32 years old last month. He leaves a wife and three children.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pitzer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by China's Drug Store.

A Specimen of Sen. Hoar's Eloquence.

From the Congressional Record.

Mr. President, I know how imperfectly I have stated this argument. I know how feeble is a single voice amid this din and tempest, this delirium of empire. It may be that the battle for this day is lost. But I have an assured faith in the future. I have an assured faith in justice and the love of liberty of the American people. The stars in their courses fight for freedom. The ruler of the heavens is on that side. If the battle today go against it, I appeal to another day, not distant and sure to come. I appeal from the clapping of hands and the stamping of feet and the bawling and the shouting to the quiet chamber where the fathers gathered in Philadelphia.

"I appeal from the spirit of trade to the spirit of liberty. I appeal from the empire to the republic. I appeal from the millionaire and the boss, and the wire-puller, and the manager, to the statesman of the older time, in whose eyes a guinea never listened, who lived and died poor, and who left to his children and countrymen a good name far better than riches. I appeal from the present, bloated with material prosperity, drunk with the last of empire, to another and a better age. I appeal from the present to the future and to the past."

DESPERATE ROBBERS IN FLORIDA.

Frank Duncan Turned Over to Alabama Authorities. His Wife Advised Him to Commit Suicide.

Tavares, Fla., Oct. 5.—Frank Duncan and his partner "Kid" Stafford were convicted in the circuit court today of blowing the safe of the Leesburg bank, and were sentenced to the penitentiary for 15 years—the full limit for that offense. Sentence on Duncan was suspended and he was turned over to the Alabama authorities to be taken to Birmingham where he was convicted of the murder of two policemen and sentenced to hang.

When captured the prisoners were well armed and a bottle of nitroglycerine was found in their possession. They claimed that the bottle contained medicine, but Detectives Ahn and Badiker this morning placed some of its contents under a stamp and blew it to atoms, startling the town with the explosion.

When the prisoners were taken back to jail and they, with the sheriff and detectives, were standing in the corridor, Duncan drew from his pocket a bottle of nitro-glycerine, raised it aloft and with an oath said:—"Turn us both loose, or we will all go to hell together." Detective Ahn leveled his pistol at Stafford, who sank to his knees and begged him not to shoot. Duncan gave up the bottle out of consideration for Stafford.

Duncan's wife came from Tampa yesterday and advised him to kill himself. It is thought she smuggled the bottle of nitro-glycerine to him. She left last night and did not attend the trial.

SAM MARKS AND MOSE HAM.

What is Said in Darlington About the Removal of the Two Murderers to the Penitentiary.

Darlington, Oct. 5.—As announced in a special to The News and Courier from Columbia, published this morning, Mose Ham, who was sentenced for life last Saturday afternoon, was carried to the penitentiary yesterday by the sheriff. Sam Marks was also taken along with Ham, although he was sentenced to be hung on November 11, and would be just as safe here as in the penitentiary.

Why Marks was carried off is not known in Darlington, unless an appeal is to be made for a new trial or a commutation of his sentence, and if such is the case it is kept quiet. No movement has so far been made publicly for a new trial or a commutation, but it is a fact that the verdict did not meet with the approval of everybody, although that is nothing unusual in such cases.

The jury that tried Marks and Ham was composed of men of honor and integrity, and it is not likely that the Governor will interfere with the verdict. Certainly there was no undue dispatch of the negro, Sam Marks, to the gallows, when the brutal manner in which he ended the life of Hill Langston is considered. There are no new developments in the case.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—General Von Trotha, Commanding the German force operating against the rebel Hereros in German southwest Africa, this morning cables that he has quelled the rebellion and is now pursuing the remnants of the insurgents.

OYAMA'S ONWARD MARCH.

A General Forward Movement of the Japs Expected Soon.

Constant Skirmishing Between the Jap Cavalry and the Russian Cossacks Shows that the Two Armies are Nearer Together.—The Russians Have Received Forty Thousand Reinforcements.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 6.—11.50 a. m.—Official advices from the far East given out this evening describe series of skirmishes on the southern front of Gen. Kuropatkin's army, the only importance of which lies in the fact that the Japanese are showing a disposition to press forward and feel out the Russian positions. Gen. Mischenko's Cossacks in every case drove back the opposing forces.

The activity of the Japanese outposts is doubtless intended to screen movements of their armies, and, therefore, may be regarded as precursory symptoms of final preparations for an advance, which probably will begin within a week.

A special messenger has brought to the Emperor Gen. Kuropatkin's full report of the battle of Liao Yang. The messenger, who submitted to an interview, declares that the main army is concentrated at Tie Pass, and that it is not likely Gen. Kuropatkin will make a determined stand at Mukden.

Gen. Grippenbergs, recently appointed to the command of the second Manchurian army will be received by Emperor Nicholas at Peterhof in the morning.

It is understood that the third division of the guards stationed at Warsaw, is under orders to go to the front, and this, with the second division of the guards and the rifle brigade of the guards stationed in and around St. Petersburg, will make altogether about forty thousand guards who have been ordered to the Far East.

There were recurrent rumors tonight of the fall of Port Arthur, but they have not the slightest foundation.

London, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Central News from Chefoo, dated 2.30 a. m., says a big naval battle was then proceeding outside the harbor of Chefoo. It is thought the Port Arthur fleet made a sortie to reach Chefoo and that they encountered the Japanese squadron. A later dispatch says the firing ceased at 4 o'clock.

Mukden, Oct. 6.—The Japanese army on the Russian southern front has been reinforced. A reconnaissance by six Russian squadrons yesterday revealed the fact that a small Japanese infantry detachment had advanced to the vicinity of Salochez. Some hours desultory firing followed, ending in the retirement of both sides. Several squadrons of Japanese have been discovered to the south. Brisk skirmishing resulted in the retiring of the Japanese, who left their dead, the Russians captured a large lot of ammunition.

Harbin refugees who have succeeded in reaching here declare that the garrison at Port Arthur has taken thirty thousand rifles and ammunition from Japanese soldiers who have fallen in attacks on that strong hold.

Theatre of Next Battle.

Tokio, Oct. 6, p. m.—It is evident that the country which is embraced by an irregular triangle, the apex of which is Tie pass, with the base running from Mukden to Fushan on the upper reaches of the Hun river, will soon be the theatre of extended and extensive military operations.

The Russians apparently are using Tie pass as their main base, and are constructing a series of defenses to shield it from the south and the east. Two roadways approach Tie pass from the south. One of these roadways is the main highway from Mukden, and the other, which is smaller, starts at Fushan and winds through a hilly country. Nineteen miles north of Mukden is the town of Yifu, the southern and eastern approaches to which are sheltered by sharp ridges, offering a natural protection. It is reported here that the Russians are strongly intrenching in these ridges and are erecting semi-permanent fortifications. The Yifu river which is shallow and is fordable, runs through the town.

The Russians are reported to be fortifying the right bank of the river between Yifu and Tabaitun, 15 miles to the northward. Several lines of ridges cross the road and it is said that the Russians are erecting works on many of these eminences between Tabaitun and Tie pass. For some seven miles the country, generally speaking, is flat, although commanding the roadway from the eastward is a hill 1,000 metres in height which the Russians are fortifying. A range of hills flanks Tie pass on the eastward.

The Russians are holding Fushan with a heavy force and it is believed they are erecting works along the road from that place to Tie pass. This defensive work of the Russians and the disposition of their forces strengthens the belief that Gen. Kuropatkin merely intends to retard Field Marshal Oyama in his crossing of the Hun river and to give battle on the ground which he is now hurriedly fortifying.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 6, 4 p. m.—Lieut. General Sakharoff sends the following report: "Tuesday passed quietly. There has been no change in the situation. Several skirmishes have occurred at Hun Ipu between our out posts and four companies of Japanese infantry and one squadron of cavalry. Our force at first retired, but on the arrival of cavalry reinforcements, an outflanking movement was ordered which compelled the Japanese to retire to Tadusampo with considerable loss. In the evening a detachment of Cossacks approached within four or five miles of Yentai Mines. The Japanese position was fully reconnoitered and the force then returned, having lost but one killed and three wounded. Two Japanese were taken prisoners."

Vladivostok, Oct. 7.—It is reported here that Gen. Kuropatkin is very ill and that since the Russian reverses at Liao Yang he has been unable to personally conduct the operations of the Russian Army.

Tokio, Oct. 7.—It is reported that four Russian war ships have been damaged by the Japanese firing at Port Arthur. One of them is said to have been completely wrecked.

Attacking From Four Sides.

Tien Tsing, Oct. 7.—A junk which arrived here today from Port Arthur reports on the day it left the Japanese were renewing the assault from four sides simultaneously. The Japanese are meeting with heavy losses around Port Arthur.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger, from Mukden says: "Gen. Kuropatkin has expressed a firm determination to avail himself of this favorable season of the year for military action. Everything points to a coming revenge for Liao Yang. The officers and men hope that the period of retreats is past and that they will be led against the enemy. The Japanese undoubtedly intended on September 27 to attack in three columns from the collieries at Yentai, along the Imperial road, but desisted when they discovered that the Russians fronting them numbered 60,000."

The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger gives a summary of the ostensible strength of the opposing Japanese armies, which, according to his calculations, aggregate 144,000 infantry, 6,500 cavalry and 648 guns.

TO DIE FOR KILLING HIS WIFE.

Law Will Bring One White Murderer to His End if Governor Heyward Does not Interfere.

Seneca, Oct. 6.—The case of Hoyt Hayes for the murder of his young wife on May 26, 1903, is now in the hands of the Governor. At his first trial on July, 1903, the jury was unable to agree, after remaining out twenty hours.

In November last year his case was tried again and he was convicted and sentenced to hang on January 15, 1904. The case was then appealed to the Supreme Court, which affirmed the action of the lower court, and he was then resented to hang on October 14.

On Tuesday James P. Cary appeared before Judge Dantzler, at Manning as one of Hayes's attorneys and there presented the arguments in favor of a commutation of Hayes's sentence to life imprisonment, but the Judge declined to make any recommendation to the Governor. Messrs. Cary, Stribling and Shelor were closeted with the Governor several hours yesterday asking for the commutation and making efforts to prove that he was convicted on circumstantial evidence. The Governor, however, declines to say anything at present, but he is considering the case.

A petition is before him signed by over a thousand persons asking him to give the commutation in favor of Hayes. On the other side a petition is also before him asking him not to interfere, to let the law take its course. This petition is also signed by about a thousand persons, including a majority of the jurors who convicted Hayes.

It is said that Solicitor Boggs will not interfere in Hayes's behalf, but will ask the Governor to let the law take its course.

There is very little hope for Hayes, and no doubt he will be hanged at Walhalla on Friday, the 14th inst.

He is in the County Jail at Walhalla. His attorneys, however, are working hard to get the commutation, but it is believed that the Governor will let the law take its course.

It is rumored through this section that Solicitor Boggs will resign as solicitor from this circuit if the Governor interferes with the execution of the sentence.

FUNERAL OF POSTMASTER GENERAL

It was Attended by all the Pomp and Circumstance of Officialdom.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Officials of the government and representatives of foreign powers gathered reverently at St. John's Church at 11 o'clock this morning to do honor to the memory of late Postmaster General Payne. Owing to the limited capacity of the church, admission was by card only, and every pew in the auditorium and balcony was filled.

By executive proclamation the departments had been ordered closed from 9 until 1 p. m., and thousands of government clerks stood in the church yard during the ceremony. The funeral party consisting of the family, members of the Cabinet and eight uniformed letter carriers who carried the casket, left the apartment at the Arlington Hotel shortly before the hour set for the services and walked to the church. President and Mrs. Roosevelt, who proceeded there by a few moments took the front pew on one side and Mrs. Payne occupied the corresponding pew on the other side.

The floral offerings were magnificent, including one from the White House but houses, arranged by Mrs. Roosevelt, personally. The hearse was escorted to the Pennsylvania station after the service and the body sent to Milwaukee. The train left at 2.30 p. m.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and gripes, but it is also a certain cure for croup, Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. A Case of It.

Many More Like It In Sumter.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Sumter. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Ellis Hudgins, gardener and farmer, well known in Sumter and vicinity, says: "I suffered for eight or ten years from lumbago in my back so bad that I could not get out of bed at times. There was no strength in my back and it ached constantly. When I moved around a link would strike me right across the small of my back just like someone sticking a knife into it. The secretions from the kidneys were dark colored, smelted strong and contained a sediment besides causing me to get up several times during the night. I could not begin to tell you the number of remedies I used but nothing did me much good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Dr. A. J. China's drug store. The first few doses helped me and since taking the pills I have not had any trouble with my kidneys and the pains disappeared from my back.
